Sen. Harding Disconcerts His Opponents

CONVENTION RECESSES UNTIL '4 WHEN OHIOAN MAKES BIG GAINS

Republican Delegates Adjourn at 1:37 P. M. Following Sensational Spurt by Harding

VOTE MORE THAN DOUBLED

Ohio Floor Managers Confer After Eighth Ballot and Question of Recess Is Put

SEN. JOHNSON IS SLIPPING

Wood Drops Into Second Place on Eighth Ballot, Lowden Forging Ahead With 308 Votes

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—After taking four more ballots, making eight in all, the Republican national convention adjourned at 1:37 p. m. until 4 p. m.

The recess came after a sensational spurt by Senator Harding of Ohio which apparently disconcerted his opponents.

Harding leaped from 61½ on the last ballot yesterday to 133½ on the eighth ballot today.

The Ohio floor managers were called into conference on the platform after a recess had been moved.

Early reports about the convention hall had it that the Hardings had agreed to recess after the eighth ballot in view of their candidates showing. However, it was apparent that they were willing to continue the balloting.

Chairman Lodge finally put the question of a recess while the conference was still on.

General Wood, who finished yesterday's balloting in the fourth vote with 314 votes, dropped into second place at the close of the balloting today, finishing the eighth ballot with 299 votes.

On the fifth ballot Wood also showed a 299 figure, scoring a comeback in the sixth in which he finished in a tie with Lowden at 311½ votes. He gained a ½ vote on the seventh and fell back 13 votes on the eighth.

Lowden concluding yesterday's balloting with 289 votes, reached 303 on the fifth ballot, finishing in the sixth with 311½ and the seventh with the same total. On the final ballot before recess he had 308.

Senator Harding started from a score of 61½ on the fourth yesterday, jumping to 78 on the fifth, 89 on the sixth, 103 on the seventh and 133 on the eighth.

The promising development of strength by Sprout after the fourth ballot did not mature today.

Pennsylvania's delegation stayed with their governor through the four ballots before recess.

Hiram Johnson's strength slipped from a total of 140½ on yesterday's last ballot to 87 on the eighth today. Michigan, where Johnson won an unexpected primary victory, began dropping away from him on the sixth ballot today and on the eighth Wood went into the lead in Michigan's quota.

Harding emerged this morning from all night conferences of republican chieftains as the man with whom they hope to break the imminent deadlock on the presidential nomination. On him they planned to concentrate their strength should the convention fail to break through the blockade established yesterday by four ballots.

Senator Harding participated in the conferences. He also saw Senator Johnson in the latter's private apartments, but the California senator described the visit as a "convention call." Details of the meeting were not disclosed. It gained significance because backers of the Harding movement were looking to Johnson supporters for aid if

MAJ. GEN. LEONARD WOOD

THEY NEVER DIE

Cranmore, Calif., June 12—Live in Cranmore—and continue to live. "Never say die" might well be the slogan of Cranmore, in Sutter county. Quiet, peaceful and prosperous, Cranmore lays claim to having the healthiest community in the United States. Its graveyard has been purely decorative since 1863. In fifty-seven years not a spadeful of earth has been turned in Cranmore cemetery. Not a death has occurred here in that period. Only very old folks talk about the "last funeral." Several residents of Cranmore have died in that time, but strangely enough, they expired while away from here.

Major General Wood, a leader on the majority of the eight ballots cast in the republican national convention at Chicago, lost 13 votes on the last ballot before the recess to day and dropped into second place.

WAS SWIMMING IN FLATROCK

Frances Flodder, age sixteen, a cripple, was saved from drowning in Flatrock river this afternoon about three o'clock by Anthony Owens, son of Tobe Owens, 218 South Pearl street.

The Flodder girl had gone down for the third time when the Owens boy, attracted by the cries for help from the girls with her, reached her side and dragged her to safety.

The girl was taken to the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry Flodder, 427 West Second street, and it was expected that she would recover.

The girl had gone swimming with her sister Henrietta, and Edith Osborn near the foot of Pearl street.

She ventured in water too deep for her and was carried under. According to the girls with her, she had gone down for third time when the Owens boy plunged into the water.

WATSON VOTES CAST ON THREE BALLOTS

Although not formally presented to the republican national convention at Chicago as a candidate, Senator James E. Watson of this city received vote for president on three out of the eight ballots cast up until the time the convention recessed at 1:37 p. m. today.

Two votes were cast for Watson on the third ballot yesterday afternoon when a Missouri and a South Carolina delegate voted for him, according to Chicago dispatches. He made a hundred percent gain on the fourth ballot, receiving four votes, one from the South Carolina delegation and three from Missouri.

The first vote for Watson today was not cast until the sixth ballot when he received one.

Judge Sparks Rules in Case of Sefton vs Ramer Which Was Heard in May

STOPS STORING EXPLOSIVES

Plaintiff Alleged During Trial That Storage House Endangered Lives of People

Judge Will M. Sparks this morning ruled on the Sefton vs Ramer explosives case, finding in favor of the plaintiff, granting him a permanent injunction, which will prohibit the storage of explosives on the Ramer farm, near the Rush-Decatur county line.

The case was heard in the court here on May 17 and 18, being sent here from Decatur county on a change of venue. It will be recalled that an explosive took place in that neighborhood in December, 1918, which resulted in one death and much personal property damage.

Frank H. Sefton, plaintiff, in this action, sought to have a permanent injunction to prevent the defendant, Robert Ramer, from storing explosives on the farm, maintaining that it endangered life and property in that vicinity.

The American Glycerine Company was also made a defendant in the case. Sefton declared on the witness stand that several gallons of explosives was stored there and that the place of storage was directly close to the Greensburg-Rushville highway, and also to the Big Four tracks.

When the explosion took place in 1918, Sefton's three tenant houses were badly damaged, and a new storage place was built last January on the Ramer farm, which adjoins the Sefton place. The two parties are cousins, it was brought out in the trial.

The plaintiff maintained at the trial that the explosives concealed in the storage house, were delivered to places as far south as Kentucky, and he maintained that another storage could be built in the hills of Ripley county or elsewhere, in some community not so thickly populated.

The divorce case of Marie Hurles against Elmer Hurles was heard in court this morning, and after the conclusion of the evidence the court took the matter under advisement.

George C. Wyatt and Company have filed suit against Casper Johnson, a complainant on a note, demanding $200, and another suit filed by M. Boord against Alva N. Harold, a complainant on a note, demanding $400 was also filed in court.

John Nelson Performs Task in Two Days With Twenty-Five Men, Thirty-Four Horses and Mule.

REGARDED AS ACHIEVEMENT

Many people have been commentating on thefeat performed by John Nelson on his Posey township farm, this week, as an example of the possibilities of present-day farming (this is declared to be accurate by the media).

Recently Mr. Nelson, who is a first class farmer, bought a place in Posey township which has been noted for the way it produced weeds. He has been the subject of many jokes from his friends who have wondered whether he intended to grow weeds.

There was one field of about forty acres which seemed especially adapted to the cultivation of weeds and all efforts on the part of Mr. Nelson to rent it were of no avail.

Finally deciding that he would not allow the land to lie idle, Mr. Nelson went to work. He took twenty-five men, thirty-four horses, and a mule

(the narrator of this story) and in two days the weeds all disappeared and the field was planted in corn. His friends are no longer "kidding" him; they admit it was some achievement.

Democrats May Choose "Tom" Marshall For Their Candidate

The Vice-President of the United States is the kind of a man his friends love to call "Tom", although he was christened Thomas Riley Marshall and is one of the Virginia Marshalls, transplanted to Indiana soil. In appearance he is short, rather slight, with deeply lined face and a graying mustache. He looks what he was when he broke into politics—a keen shrewd but kindly Indiana lawyer. He was said to be the best trial lawyer in the Hoosier state.

If there is such a thing, Marshall might be termed a conservative-radical in politics. He believes in taking the party and the nation back to Jeffersonian simplicity and plain living and plain thinking; respect for law and at the same time respect for personal rights. His radicalism is largely on his theories with respect to social rights and the relations of capital towards labor and the public. He has placed some of these opinions before the public as follows:

If the government takes more from the taxpayer than is necessary, to effectually and economically conduct its business then the government is a thief and we ought to call the police.

"Do not tell me that the wage earner of today is willing to look along the vista of years to a pauper's grave, while a few men by legislative enactment sit in marble halls and scatter money like drunken dukes at monkey dinners."

"I believe as much as any man in vested rights but not in vested wrongs."

While Governor of Indiana, Marshall was instrumental in the enactment of laws to better working conditions, including laws for the establishment of free employment bureaus, to safeguard workers in industries and no railroads, to limit cold storage of food and to protect child labor.

Marshall was born in North Manchester, Ind., March 14, 1854. He was graduated from Wabash College in 1873. He was admitted to the bar in 1875 and 5 years later made his initial bow into politics as the Democratic candidate for prosecuting attorney at Columbus City, Ind., where he had removed. He was beaten. In 1898 he refused a proffered nomination for Congress.

In 1908, the Democratic party in Indiana was having a hard time finding the right kind of a candidate for Governor. Marshall was selected because he stood well with the church people, had no enemies, and a good public record. He made his campaign by a direct appeal to the "plain people" and was elected, running 25,000 ahead of his ticket. He returned the funds that had been contributed to his campaign and announced that he would carry out his pledges unhampered by any obligations. He ran for re-election in 1910 on his record and won again.

Is 1912, when the Democrats picked a running mate for Woodrow Wilson they wanted a man from a doubtful state who looked as if he could carry that state and Marshall was selected. He was elected with Wilson and ran again in 1916 with a similar result.

In Washington, he was simply Vice-President. Since Wilson has been incapacitated by illness from public speaking, Marshall has made some public speeches. During his terms, he has been mainly in the public eye as presiding officer of the Senate during the debates which preceded, accompanied and followed the war.

Marshall was married in 1895 to Lois I. Kimsey of Angola, Ind.

They have no children. Recently Marshall adopted as their own a child but death took it, to the great distress of the Vice-President and his wife.

Marshall in religion is a Presbyterian. He likes good cigars, carries a cane and is a 33rd degree Mason a trustee of the college from which he was graduated and a member of several fraternities. He retains Columbus, Ind., as his voting place, but lives quietly in Washington and spends much of his time in his homesome offices in the office building and Senate wing of the capitol.

There was nothing to indicate that Senator Johnson would consent.

Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts, also was mentioned as a possible running mate for Harding should Senator Johnson elect to give his support but not his name to the ticket.

Either of these courses would maintain the veto power over convention action which had been claimed for the California senator from the beginning.

Backers of the Harding boom said they could muster between 150 and 200 votes for Harding on an early ballot and that if Johnson could be induced to accept the vice-presidential nomination on the compromise ticket, practically his entire strength could be swung into line.

The largest block of votes which it was thought could be obtained for Harding, sponsors of the movement said, were in the New York delegation. Sixty New York delegates it was said at one conference, could be swung to Harding at any time. Certain members of the delegation who were opposed to the move, said that they doubted whether more than forty could be swayed.

Opponents of the Harding plan declared they would fight it to a finish in a caucus of the New York delegation.

Votes also could be drawn from Indiana, Pennsylvania, and some of the New England and southern states, leaders of the Harding movement declared.

Whether Senator Penrose was aware of the new proposal was a moot question. At one conference it was declared he was. This was denied later.

General Wood was informed of the new move. He brought his managers together during the night and they determined to stick by their guns.

W. Murray Crane, former senator from Massachusetts, was advised of the plan. He was noncommittal and seemed inclined to await developments.

Back to the Farm

Is the tide beginning to turn? Young men in some of our big cities are yearning for an opportunity to get onto the farms, and the press is advising such a course.

The wild assimility and profligate spendthrifts of the cities is palling upon them.

They prefer the freedom and greater security of country life, even if the hours are a little longer and the work a little harder.

They have come to realize that their earnings in the city are eaten up in the profiteering prices now being charged for everything they buy, both essentials and luxuries.

They see nothing ahead of them but a ceaseless repetition of earning it today and spending it tomorrow.

Having brains they are beginning to employ them to advantage.

And being but a little cog in a big wheel in the cities, they would migrate to the country, where there is room and opportunity for all.

A national campaign for repossessing the farms of the country is one of the prime requisites for a return to commercial stability.

It required food to keep soul and body together, and food can only be produced where there are men to do the work.

Cleared For Action

To effect economy and efficiency in legislative procedure the senate has reorganized its committee system. By the adoption of resolution offered by Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania, the number of standing committees beginning with the next congress will be reduced from 72 to 32.

The membership of the ten major committees will be limited to 15 and the less important committees have been reduced proportionately. Eleven committees on expenditures in the various departments of the government have been consolidated into a committee on expenditures in the executive departments which will be composed of seven senators.

The jurisdiction of the present standing committees is not affected by the reorganization plan. As defined by the Knox resolution the principal committees of the senate are, the committee on agriculture and forestry, the committee on appropriations, the committee on commerce, the committee on finance, the committee on foreign relations, the committee on interstate commerce, the committee on the judiciary, the committee on military affairs, the committee on naval affairs and the committee on post offices and post roads.

Three minutes afterward he was inspecting the 10-cent tip. With a yell that could be heard throughout the station he shouted at the disappearing officer:

We have two of them—politics and profiteering.

The world owes every man a living, but by some it is considered a bad debt.

Newspapers just naturally keep on preaching economy, but apparently no one knows what we mean.

Some men can make money. All women can spend it.

Give the devil his due always, but don't let him grab yours.

THE ECONOMY CAR

All doubt of the Overland Four being entitled to the claim it makes was removed during the last week of April when demonstrations in ninety-seven cities throughout the United States produced a national average of 25.2 miles to the gallon of gasoline for the Overland Sedan with TRIPLEX SPRINGS.

This Economy Record

is all the more impressive because it represents tests in every section of the country under all sorts of conditions and over every class of roads, whether rough, smooth, hilly or level. In the south the average ranged from 27.7 to 20.5 miles. In Texas the test was made over city and country roads with windows open to a 25-mile wind. In the east the average for the various states ran from 26.4 to 18.9 miles. In the middle west the lowest average recorded was 19.8 and the highest 29.6 to the gallon. In the west the average was from 28.2 to 22.1 miles.

DR. GOOD DEALERS TO MEET NEXT WEEK

Sixth Annual Gathering For Retail Men Will Take Place Tuesday And Wednesday

WILL DISCUSS STORE TOPICS.

The sixth annual convention of the Indiana Retail Dry Goods Association to be held at Indianapolis Tuesday and Wednesday, will be one of the most important meetings ever held by the dry goods and ready-to-wear men of the State.

A two day's program has been arranged, which includes addresses by the most prominent personages in the trade. Included in the program is the demonstration sale to be staged by Mrs. Genevieve Reid, educational director of Marshall Field & Co., Chicago. Mrs. Reid will be assisted by an expert saleslady from Chicago and an expert shopper from Indianapolis. All the rules of good salesmanship will be brought out during this demonstration sale and as merchants generally are interested greatly in salesmanship this feature will prove interesting and instructive.

Store problems of today will be handled by men nationally known in the dry goods and suit trade. At the Smoker Tuesday evening, the meeting will be in charge of E. S. Kinney of Marion and will consist entirely of discussions of the questions submitted to the Question Box, all questions being upon store problems.

PRELIMINARY TESTS HELD

England is Now Engaged in Picking Olympic Athletes.

(By United Press.)

London, June 12.—Although the British Olympic Games team will not be selected until competitions between English, Scotch and Irish athletes are held at Creme on July 10, preliminary Olympic tests are being held throughout England today. The winners of these tests will be eligible for the general English championships at Stamford Bridge, July 2 and 3.

Meanwhile the Amateur Swimming association and Amateur Boxing, Wrestling and Gymnastic associations are selecting about eighty competitors each for two days' final trials in July when teams will be selected and trainers placed in charge of them. The National Cyclists Union is taking similar steps.

NEW YORK

New York's first federal census count, 1790, showed it had 32,305 persons.

This, of course, included only Manhattan island, which at that time was the extent of America's first city. The population at that time of the area now included in the greater city, that is, of Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens, The Bronx and Richmond, was 49,401.

New York City as now constituted under one municipal government, was formed in 1898. Its population in 1900, the first census after the merging of the five counties into Greater New York, was 3,437,093.

The growth of New York City from a Dutch trading post in 1609, when Hendrik Hudson sailed the "Half Moon" up the Hudson river, to the world's largest city—it's population even surpassing that within the corporate limits of London—has long been looked at with astonishment and wonder. The rapidity of its growth has been exceeded by no large city in the world with the exception of Chicago.

Manhattan, a rocky island at the mouth of the Hudson river, which at that time was thought to be the beginning of a northwest route to India, was settled by Dutch traders in 1614. The town, known as New Amsterdam, occupied the most southerly point of the island, the site of the present financial and skyscraper district of the lower part of the city. A stockade was situated in what is now Battery park and Bowling Green. Its original area was 2 square miles. It now covers 307.8 square miles.

In 1664 Peter Stuyvesant, Dutch governor, surrendered the town to the English.

In the first years of the United States government, New York was Men! Women! If you do less than you should, on your farm, at your desk, or in your shop, you are in some way weak. These neglected or unknown conditions, are usually diseases of the Pelvic System, which reflexly act upon the organs of Elimination, digestion and the nervous system, which in turn has its influence on the brain. I have made a special study of the Nervous System and have perfected methods that will cure where ordinary methods have failed. I will give you a searching and thorough examination FREE, thus determining the exact location of your trouble.

Extends to the good people of Rush county its appreciation of the cordiality with which it has been received.

With a score of years' association among some of the most successful Millers of the Country, we offer you the service of accrued acquaintance and experience. We will make our homes among you, share your fortunes and misfortunes, build a mutual confidence based on honorable and upright dealings at all times, spend a large portion of what it may be our good fortune to make here, doubtless bringing most of the capital for the promotion of this Rush county industry from outside sources. It will be our fixed policy to put more into this county than we take out.

We Propose:

To pay top prices for your wheat.

To ship your products in the form of flour-finished, rather than raw material.

To employ local men. Every dollar paid in salaries goes to men who spend their money among you.

To improve the plant and equipment from time to time that this plant shall be the pride of your county.

We Ask You:

To give us first chance on all your wheat in order that most shall be realized for this county in having its products exported in finished form.

To buy our brands whenever possible thus promoting our mutual interests.

To visit us often with your encouragement, advice, and your moral support.

The present would seem a very opportune time to dispose of any surplus wheat. Several causes combine to make this so. We are paying fancy prices for it.

HOT WATER TREATMENT WILL BE INSPECTED

Methods Used by County Agent D. Ball Will be Examined in Four Fields Next Wednesday

F. J. PIPAL WILL BE HERE.

Four field demonstration meetings are announced by D. D. Ball, county agent, for next Wednesday, June 16th, at which time a number of wheat fields, which were sown with seed treated by the hot water method, will be inspected. F. J. Pipal, one of the leaders in the wheat disease control work in the United States, will be in the county and will explain the control of wheat diseases at the meetings.

Loose smut of wheat has been on the increase in this section of the state for a number of years and is becoming a serious problem to the wheat growers. Fifty two farmers in this county spent their time and money last fall in trying out the hot water method in controlling this disease and the meetings have been arranged to give the farmers an opportunity to see the results of the treatment.

The first meeting will be on the farm of Elmer Hutchinson, 1½ miles north of Arlington at 9:00 a. m. The second meeting on the farm of Elmer Porter in Jackson Township one mile east of Occident at 10 a. m. The third meeting on the farm of F. J. Ebanks, about 4½ miles northeast of Rushville at 11:00 a. m. The afternoon meeting will be on the Miller farm in Walker Township 4 miles southwest of Homer.

Church History.

With much diversity of opinion on minor points, there is a general agreement in dividing the history of the church into three great periods. The first, from the birth of Christ to the time of Constantine; the second from that epoch to the Reformation, and third from the Reformation to the present time.

Than Knitting Tools Tongues Sharper

By MARGARET ROHE
(Written for "United Press")

The dear girls knit upon the porch for June time recreation; And for each garment made they tear

To shred a reputation.

New York, June 12.—The hand-painted porch furniture, the basket chairs and the gayly crocheted divan swing are all full these golden afternoons of June. They are full of fluffy femininity, crisp and cool in white linen, or cool and fluffy in organdie and swiss.

Something about the propinquity of two or more females, all accented with knitting needles, needles and thread or crochet hooks, makes it a foregone conclusion that their tongues will prove sharper than their tools, and that "femininity" would be a much more appropriate word to describe these little tatting fests.

But while they are all unanimous and concentrated on the one thing they specialize in tearing to shreds, varied and diverse are the multitude of things their nimble fingers evolve as tongues falter not, needles fly and golden momets fit.

There seems to be a homely utilitarian effect about the summer girls' handwork these rare June days.

She has turned to the crocheting of pastel tinted rags into quaint old-fashioned oval rugs. Round ones too she makes and any and all color combinations to match up the cretonne hangings of her room she uses, with always a dash of black to bring out the other tints in contrast. These crochet rugs are best made of plain-colored gingham, and are as effective and artistic as the professional hand-braided, rag rugs that are made of dyed, unbleached muslin.

Since the fad or vogue for these hand-crocheted rag rugs has entered into the summer girl's simple life, her vision of rags has broadened beyond that of the jazzies.

Then there are the hand-knitted wash clothes that are unfurled in all the white purity of knitting cotton and ivory needles, until 60 stitches on the needle and 49 rows complete their symmetry ready for a yellow, blue, pink or lavender crocheted edge of mercerized thread. The summer girl, her mother, cousins, aunts and little sisters are turning these soft, durable and attractive wash clothes out by the dozens and thereby knocking to small alibi for a perpetually soiled countenance.

For her own adornment she is knitting colorful scarves of wool, the most brilliant hues she can find, one for each day in the week. Worn with white skirts, white shoes and stockings, white hats, and sheer white waists that are intricately and elaborately hemstitched also by her own fair hands these scarves add the one needed splash of vivid dye that makes the summer girl an object of perfection worth dying for.

TAKES HOLD AND HELPS

Colds that hang on should be gotten rid of, for no one can stand the strain of racking cough, disturbed sleep and irritation of throat and lungs. Marie Heisler, Freeport, Ill., writes: "I had more or less of a cough for years and I have taken quite a number of medicines. None of them takes hold and helps like Foley's Honey and Tar." This old, reliable cough syrup promptly helps coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Contains no opiates. Children like it. F. B. Johnson. (Adv.) 3

FARM ANIMALS

KILL ALL HARMFUL ANIMALS

Annual Loss Wrought by Predatory Wild Beasts and Rodents Mounts Up Into Millions.

Live stock and wool valued at $20,000,000 are lost annually through the depredations of wild animals. The value of farm produce and forage destroyed each year by rodents is approximately $300,000,000. It is estimated that the households of this country sustain an annual loss from rats and mice of $200,000,000.

These figures sum up certain of the larger losses due to destructive wild life which the biological survey of the United States department of agriculture is engaged in reducing as rapidly as possible. A force of between 400 and 500 experienced hunters was employed by this bureau during the past year to kill predatory animals, many of which were infected with rabies;

Live Stock and Wool Valued at Millions of Dollars Are Destroyed Annually by Predatory Animals, Chief of Which Are Wolves and Coyotes.

This disease often is spread from the wild creatures to domestic animals, and frequently endangers humans. In this work of extermination the states and numerous private organizations have had an important share.

The work of killing rodents—prairie dogs, ground squirrels, jack rabbits and cottontails, pocket gophers, native mice, wood rats, cotton rats, etc.—is also carried on with the co-operation of the states. During the past fiscal year ground squirrels were poisoned on more than 14,000,000 acres. In one Idaho county alone 40,000 rabbits were killed. In the same period from 75 to 85 per cent of the prairie dogs found on a total of 2,200,000 acres were destroyed.

JUNE BECOMING VERY POPULAR FOR DIVORCES

Indianapolis Superior Court Hears
149 Suits.—Largest Divorce Calendar Ever Had

BECOMES A SAD BUSINESS

Indianapolis, Ind., June 12—“June is becoming as popular for divorces as it is for marriages”, said Judge W. W. Thornton, of the superior court, as he went to the bench to hear 149 divorce suits.

“This is the largest divorce calendar this court has ever had”, said the judge. “It is a sad business, this divorce question.”

“The trouble is that too many people believe that all the judge has to do is to sign the decree.”

“Some time ago,” said Judge Thornton, “several ministers were at my home discussing the divorce question and they were in the opinion that restrictions in obtaining the license would solve the problem.”

BLUE LAW IS RIGIDLY ENFORCED IN ONE CITY

Mayor of Huntington, W. Va., is a Kill Joy and Closes All Sunday Enterprises

AIRPLANES ARE PROHIBITED

(By United Press) Huntington, W. Va., June 12.—Huntington is known to the rest of the state as “The Holy City.” It gained the appellation through the rigid enforcement of the Sunday blue laws by Mayor Campbell.

Campbell has taken the pep out of the Sabbath, as it were. To some of the inhabitants it is eminently satisfactory, but to much of the younger element Campbell is the original killjoy.

The courts may take a hand in the matter. Ivan Davis, druggist, was reprimanded by the mayor for advertising he would give away ice cream and soft drinks on Sundays. Campbell insists that no store has a right to remain open on the Sabbath. He placed a ban on soft drink shops, peanut stands, shoe shining parlors, gasoline stations, movies and other like enterprises and amusements.

Airplanes are also forbidden from coming nearer than 2,000 feet while flying over the city on Sunday.

The new Robert Warwick picture, “The Tree of Knowledge,” which is coming to the Princess Theatre tonight is declared to have that rare combination of highly dramatic and entertaining story, talented star and fine supporting cast, and expert direction that results in the really unusual photoplay.

The mention of such players as Kathryn Williams, Wahida Hawley, Tom Forman and Irving Cummings establishes the cast as far above the ordinary.

The director was William C. De Mille, who, aside from being a veteran at screening motion pictures, is the author of “Strongheart,” “The Warrens of Virginia” and other stage plays, as well as several film stories that were produced by his brother, Cecil B. De Mille.

“The Tree of Knowledge” was adapted from an English stage drama by R. C. Carton, who also wrote “Lord and Lady Algy.” It is an absorbing story of the pernicious influence of a female flirt and her final vanishing by one of her victims. There is a beautiful prelude in which Theodore Kosloff, the Russian dancer, and Yvonne Gardelle enact in pantomime the ancient legend of Adam and his fabled first wife Lilith. The picture is a Paramount-Artcraft.

Billie Rhodes at Mystic

Billie Rhodes, the vivacious little star, who is appearing in productions of the National Film Corporation, will be at the Mystic Monday, in an unusually excellent picture “The Lamb and the Lion,” her latest production. Miss Rhodes plays the part of “Boots,” a waif who has been adopted by “The Lion,” the leader of a gang of crooks.

In an attempted robbery, “Boots” is captured by the society woman whose house was being burglarized, and imposed by her on her friends as a girl of good family. This unusual procedure was carried out that the society woman might marry “Boots” to the son of a man who had rejected her, and thus put a taint on his family name by exposing the fact that “Boots’ parents were crooks.

“Boots” is an ingratiating little vagabond who shocks the society dames by her daring and unconventional capers. She is compelled to be the helpless tool of the scheming woman by threats to deliver “The Lion” to the police if she fails to go through with the plan.

Mystery, romance and the machinations of a high society intrigue are exposed in a play that vibrates with thrilling situations.

Nebronne MacDowell, the noted tragedian plays the part of “Uncle Ben” known as “The Lion”—and Maud George, an actress of striking personality, plays the role of the scheming society woman. Others in an excellent cast are Hal Clements, Walter Hiers, Vera Lewis and Charles Spire.
